games to 2. The final score Sunday was5-2Complete details in next week's edition of The Times*

DISAPPOINTMENT: Assistant coach Jim Todd, left, trainer Chris Todd and coach Dan Smith, in the background, were hoping for a home-town victory Thursday, but the Bantam A Monarchs were outmatched by the Otonabee Wolves in the third game of the provincial semi-finals last. The series moved to Keene Saturday night where the Wolves broke a 3-3 tie with just 20 seconds left to claim the fourth game. This brought the series back to Minden Sunday evening, too late to provide a detailed report at our regular press deadline. However, check the box at the top of this photo for the outcome of Sunday's game.

Fearrey fills Dysart Council vacancy

Murray Fearrey's on-again, off-again political career is back in active mode.

The former Dysart Reeve and two-time Haliburton County Warden will soon be back at the council table. He will fill the vacant seat at Dysart Council created by the resignation of Reeve Chris Hodgson.

Hodgson ran a successful campaign in the provincial by-election for Victoria-Haliburton. He will be sworn in as this riding's MPP on April 5.

Dysart council held a special meeting last Tuesday night to decide how to deal with the vacancy. The manner in which a council vacancy can be filled is up to the remaining councillors.

With just eight months left in the municipal term, council decided against a by-election. Instead, they decided to make an appointment from the community at large.

In addition to the appointment, council has agreed that Deputy Reeve Curry Bishop will move up in rank to the Reeve's chair. Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater, who has experience on County Council was the choice for a move up to Deputy Reeve.

Fearrey's new term on council will take effect once he is sworn in at council's April meeting.

New board appointed

Two hospitals are the first priority

by Jerry Grozelle

A home-grown board is finally in place to begin the process of patriating Haliburton County's two hospitals. The final act of the Haliburton County Planning and Development Committee was to appoint 12 people to the newly-formed Health Services Board, which will eventually assume responsibility for this county's hospitals.

Along with Rheta Jones of Minden and Stuart Baker of Haliburton, who serve as St. Joseph's Hospital Board trustees, the new board will include: Douglas Campbell, Paul Heffer and Gordon Monk (all of Minden), Barbara Dawson, Joyce Gostock, Dwaine Lloyd, Hugh Nichol and Ken Wilson (of Haliburton), Lisa Mercer of Lutterworth, Patricia Simiana of Wilberforce, Ted Wilkes of Kinmount and Barbara Wright of Stanhope.

"All of the people who were appointed are prominent members of their communities with a keen interest in the future of health care in the county," said committee chairman Jack Brezina. "They were chosen for their skills as well as their interest."

A total of 22 people submitted applications to serve on the volunteer board. During the interview process, all applicants were asked if they would be interested in serving on various committees if they were unsuccessful in becoming members of the board. All indicated they would be willing to volunteer their time and expertise on sub-committees that will be formed.

The Health Services Board will eventually assume responsibility for all health care services within the county but for the immediate future the focus will be on the operation of the Haliburton and Minden hospitals. The board will be responsible to the Ministry of Health.

The two county hospitals are currently under the jurisdiction of St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough. That jurisdiction will soon be taken over by the newly formed board.

A four-member nominating team from the Planning and Development Committee conducted the interviews over a two-day period and presented its choices to the full committee at a meeting in Minden on March 22 in Minden.

Chairman Jack Brezina explained that the selection process considered such factors as expertise, geographic distribution (to make sure the entire area is represented as fairly and equally as possible), skills, experience, age and gender. The appointees include five women and seven men.

The Committee voted unanimously to appoint the 12 members.

Bank proposal is unsupported

The people of the Kinmount area have lost interest in a banking facility in the community.

This is the conclusion the Northern Community Network Credit Union Committee has arrived at after an attempt to generate interest in a banking facility in Kinmount.

The closing of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce outlet in the village in September of 1992 caused an uproar. But that outrage has subsided to a whimper over the past year and a half.

A survey that was mailed out in December drew an eight per cent response. Of the 690 questionnaires sent out, 56 were returned.

In an effort to generate more interest, a total of 4,750 surveys were included with Somerville, Galway and Snowdon tax bills. In addition, a few businesses in Kinmount and Norland had questionnaires available in prominent locations for those who didn't get one with their tax bills.

Members of the committee to attract a credit union to Kinmount were disappointed at the response to this latest attempt to drum up support.

Of the 4,750-plus questionnaires, only 52 local responses were returned (50 from individuals and two from businesses). An additional 31 replies came from non-residents of the Kinmount area, for a total of 83.

That represents a response of .017 per cent.

A Credit Union Committee statement says: "In view of the low response, the committee has agreed (there is) not sufficient interest to support a credit union or interest a bank in locating in Kinmount. As such, no further action will be taken and the committee has been disbanded.

Credit Union Committee chairman Bob Mitchell said that the initial response of the community to the closing of the bank indicated that there may have been enough support to attract another banking facility.

"I guess you've got to strike while the iron's hot," he said.

Math Problem stumps board

The following chart shows the figures used by the clerks from Dysart, Minden and Stanhope in determining the trustee distribution for the next election.

	Population	Entitlement	Entitlement (rounded)	Clerks' distribution
Dysart	4449	4.7	5	5
Minden	3075	3.25	3	3
Stanhope	1105	1.17	1	1
Lutterworth	881	.93	1	1
Snowdon	791	.83	1	1
Monmouth	770	.81	1	1
Glamorgan	583	.62	1
Cardiff	574	.61	1	1
Bicroft	505	.53	1
Sherbourne	521	.55	1	1
Totals	13254	14	16	14

Alternative Plan

The following shows an alternative calculation, similar to what the board used Tuesday to re-determine the distribution.

With Glamorgan and Sherbourne protected by the "low population" designation, they are split off into a separate pool, which creates a new set of figures for the first pool. The total population for the remaining municipalities is reduced to 12,150 and the number of available trustees is 12.

Protected	Population	Entitlement	Entitlement (rounded)
Glamorgan	583	1.06	1
Sherbourne	521	.94	1
Total	1104	2	2

Unprotected

Dysart	4449	4.39	4
Minden	3075	3.30	3
Stanhope	1105	1.09	1

Deadline foul-up gives school board a second chance to adjust trustee distribution

by Russ Duhaime

Figures don't lie ... but with a bit of figuring they can fib.

The Haliburton County Board of Education did a lot of figuring last Tuesday in order to make the numbers work out the way they want them to.

The board was trying to devise a way to distribute its 14 trustees according to population while striving to provide representation to at least nine of the county's municipalities.

Simply put, the board does not want to alter its current format of representation. Without some adjustments to the formula, this is not possible.

In an ill-fated attempt to achieve the status quo, trustees previously passed a "blank cheque" resolution authorizing Education Director Brad Saunders to "protect" whatever municipalities he deemed necessary.

When Saunders carried this unorthodox resolution into a meeting with municipal clerks, however, it was disregarded. The clerks were not about to accept a resolution that called on the director to fill in the blanks at a later date. (The Municipal Act hands the chore of determining the distribution over to the clerks of the three largest municipalities.)

Since the clerks were required to file their recommendation with the Ministry of Education by March 15, they worked with the only information they had. Consequently, their recommendation is not in keeping with the board's wishes.

Still, this doesn't mean the status quo can't be maintained. Because of a mix-up in deadline dates from the ministry, the board apparently had another chance to juggle the figures Tuesday. And juggle they did, until the numbers showed what they wanted them to show.

Trustee distribution is based on a simple formula which factors in the population of each municipality versus the population of the county. You take the municipality's population, divide it by the county's population and multiply by the total number of trustees (14). The answer is the number of trustees that municipality deserves.

It's not as simple as it sounds, though, Saunders attempted to prove. With a series of handouts, Saunders confused the trustees, who struggled to understand the math equations in front of them.

"Does any of this make sense?"

Saunders asked. The resounding answer from trustees was "no".

Based on the straight-forward formula and rounding answers off to the nearest whole number, Dysart is entitled to five trustees, Minden would get three and all other municipalities would get one.

The trouble with this is that it would take 16 trustees fill the slots. The board is only allowed 14.

This is the problem the clerks faced in their deliberations.

To resolve the discrepancy, the clerks took these numbers and made some decisions. They determined that Bicroft and Cardiff could share one trustee, as they have done in the past. They also determined that Monmouth and Glamorgan could also share.

Since this was not what the trustees had in mind, they sat down again on Tuesday and figured out an alternative plan. The plan was to "artificially skew the distribution of trustees," explained Saunders.

In order to preserve the status quo, the board declared Sherbourne and Glamorgan Townships to be "low population municipalities", thereby protecting their entitlements to a trustee. With these municipalities removed from the calculations, the rest of the figures worked out nicely to show what trustees wanted them to show.

As if the numbers weren't confusing enough, one trustee wondered whether a two-thirds majority was necessary to carry the resolutions to protect Sherbourne and Glamorgan. Saunders admitted he did not know, but asked trustees to avoid another potential dilemma by providing unanimous support. The trustees obliged.

Although the clerks have already filed their recommendation with the ministry, Saunders said it will have no bearing on the final outcome. The recommendation filed by the board is more likely to be accepted, he said.

Dysart Township Clerk Donna McCallum said she is not sure what advice the ministry will take. She said the March 31 deadline appears to apply to a different section of the Act than what the clerks are asked to deal with. Saunders, though, has a different interpretation of things. He says the board is within its rights to provide an alternative plan after the clerks have filed their recommendation.

Willberforce housing given a green light

After almost 12 years of plans and studies, the non-profit housing project in Willberforce is about to break ground.

The federal and provincial governments last week approved the development of thousands of non-profit homes, including 34 units for Monmouth Township.

Keith Tallman, who has been a part of this initiative since the outset, said he's pleased to see the efforts and patience are amounting to something.

MPP anxious to join Legislature

Victoria-Haliburton's new MPP is anxious to occupy his seat in the Legislature.

Since his by-election win on March 17, Chris Hodgson has been travelling the riding thanking supporters and tackling the backlog of constituency work that has accumulated over the past several months. The official swearing-in ceremony for Hodgson will not take place until Tuesday, April 5.

"I had hoped to take my seat sooner, but due to publication requirements in the Ontario Gazette and the Easter Holiday, it just won't be possible," said Hodgson. He plans to use the time to open his offices and get all the necessary resources in place to serve his constituents.

As soon as everything is in place, Hodgson said he will be advertising the phone numbers and addresses of both the constituency and Queen's Park offices. In the meantime, he can be contacted by leaving a message at 1-800-556-6453.

When asked if he had a message for the voters, Hodgson simply said "thank you."

Securing the final approval is a major accomplishment. Tallman's committee has done study after study over the past 11 years to prove the need and to secure the various bureaucratic approvals. "We've studied this to death," said Tallman. "We went through so many studies I couldn't tell you how many we did."

Notice of the final approval for the project came last week in a joint press release from the federal and provincial governments.

"This is the last year of what has been a very successful partnership with the province of Ontario to provide non-profit housing to local communities," said David Dingwall, Minister responsible for Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

"Non-profit housing provides accessible and affordable housing and creates much-needed jobs in construction and other related industries," said Ontario's Housing Minister Evelyn Gigantes.

The total estimated cost of the project in Monmouth is about $3.5-million. Tallman said tenders for the construction were invited late last year and the lowest bid came from a Newmarket firm for $2,225,000.

Tallman said he is hoping construction can begin by April 15 and be completed within a year.

The 34 units are to be split among three buildings. The main building will be a 24-unit seniors apartment. All of the units will be designed for wheelchair access and some will be specially designed to accommodate handicapped persons.

The remaining 10 units will be split among two buildings and provide subsidized housing for families.

All three buildings will be located together on a lot adjacent to the Bell building, within walking distance of the village.

Another charge in welfare sweep

Detective Constable Al Bibby, working in close co-operation with the Ministry of Community and Social Services is continuing his investigation of welfare frauds.

Another charge has been laid as a result of this collaboration.

Vivian Yorke, 37 of Lot 16, Concession 7, Glamorgan Township near Gooderham has been charged with defrauding the ministry of $27,665. The charges apply to a time span of almost two years ending in July of 1993.

Yorke will appear in Provincial Court Minden on April 27.

There are more suspected welfare frauds under investigation.

Lions toll booth is okayed

Minden Council gave its blessing for the third annual toll booth to be operated by the Minden Lions Club.

The toll booth will be set up at the bridge at the corner of Main and South Water Streets on the May 24 weekend. The toll is strictly voluntary and proceeds will be split 50/50 between the Lions Club's commitment to the Minden Hospital Fund and other ongoing Lions Club projects.

The booth will operate from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 21.

Tom Gardner, chairman of the toll booth committee of the Lions Club, said the booth has been well received over the past two years.

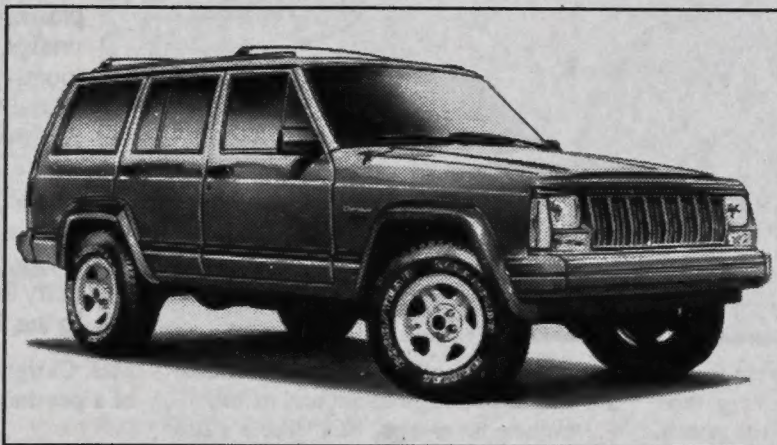

"Everybody has been more than generous," Gardner said. $2,500 was raised at the booth last year.

"It would be nice if we could surpass last year," Gardner added. "But we'll take what we get."

Gardner and Brian Moore approached council last Thursday and received the municipality's endorsement.

"Council was very generous, as always," Moore said. "And it's a lot of fun for us."

'Chipadee' falls into friendly hands

by Jerry Grozelle

Wanda and Ira Carter of Stouffer Street in Minden may not be veterinarians but they seem to have a knack for saving wildlife.

Mrs. Carter went out to chip some ice away from the back walk about three weeks ago when she happened across a black-capped chickadee in trouble. The tiny bird was lying on his back in a snowbank and at first appeared to be dead.

When Mrs. Carter picked him up, he moved his head but then lay still.

"I thought he was gone," she said.

She brought the bird into the house in a basket and, before long, it was apparent he was still alive.

Chipadee, as they have named him, stayed in the basket in the warmth of the Carter home for two days. During that time he seemed to be recovering, so he was moved to the closed-in back porch, where he dines on seeds and suet, washed down with fresh water.

The rescuers: "Chipadee" the black-capped chickadee (above) is a lucky bird. He was in the right place when he became injured and unable to fend for himself. He was found near the back door of Ira and Wanda Carter's residence on Stouffer Street in Minden, where he was taken in and nursed back to health. The Carters (left) have become so attached to their little feathered friend that they will be sorry to see him go when he returns to the flock.

At first, the bird was unable to fly, but he is getting stronger every day. He can now fly the length of the porch.

Realizing the need for a place for the chickadee to perch, Ira went out and cut a seven-foot balsam which stands in a pail of sand on the porch.

Chipadee has taken to the tree like a fish to water. It serves as his roost, where he spends most of his time recuperating.

The Carters are constantly checking on their feathered friend to make sure he has enough to eat and drink.

"When he sleeps, he's like a little feather ball," Mr. Carter said.

There are no clues that would indicate why or how the chickadee came to be in the snowbank near the Carters' back door but they speculate that he may have flown into a window.

If that is the case, he picked the right place and time to do it.

"He's a pretty special little bird,"

Mrs. Carter said. "He has become more of a pet than anything else."

The Carters aren't looking forward to the time when they will open the door and say farewell to their adopted friend. But with the progress he has made, Chipadee should be ready to re-join the flock any day now.

"It gives you a really good feeling to be able to help an animal, or bird, like that," Mrs. Carter said.

The pride of the community

The game of hockey has taken its lumps this year, due largely to the high school team's rough-house play in a mid-season game.

Now, though, it's time to pay tribute to the sport, the players, the coaches and the fans whose pride and spirit have been shared throughout this community in recent weeks.

Of course, we're speaking of the Minden Bantams -- both the Legion B's and the Spot 97 A's. These two teams have shown what it takes to be winners, on an off the ice. Not only have they demonstrated they have the talent to tilt the scoreboards in their favour, but they've also proven this can be done with style. They played hard and occasionally found themselves sitting out penalty time. However, they never crossed the line to engage in the senseless violence that seems to have become a natural characteristic of this game.

The Bantam B Monarchs wrapped up their match with Keswick last week, winning the best-of-five series with a 5-1 win in the final game. This victory makes them the Tri-County champions.

The Bantam A's are in the midsts of the provincial semi-final series against the Otonabe Wolves and at this writing are just one game away from determining which team advances to the All Ontario final.

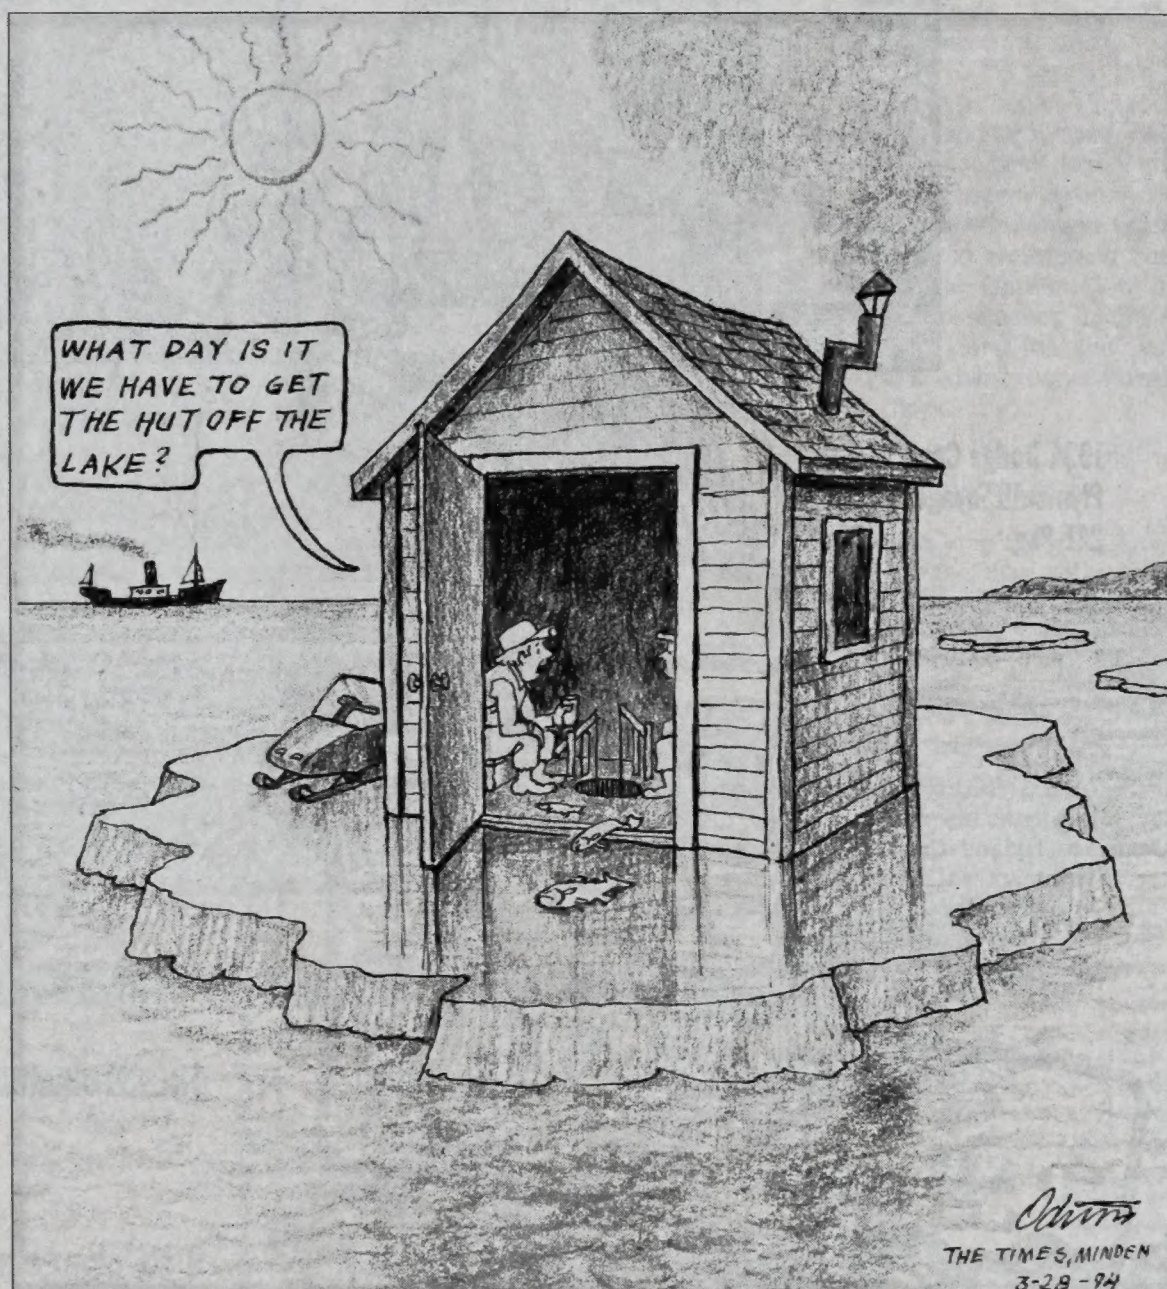

Whatever the outcome of Sunday's game, we know the community is proud of the effort our teams have put forward.

These two outstanding teams have given us something to cheer about -- both in terms of their successes and in the sense that these achievements are the result of fair play and sportsmanship.

Congratulations to both teams and good luck to the Bantam A's as they continue to strive for the provincial championship.

Water rescue an essential service

Editor,

I read in last week's paper about the men in Stanhope who saved the two snowmobilers who had fallen through the ice and I think they should be commended for their brave efforts.

After reading the information under the picture about the fire department not being able to go out on the ice, I asked around and was shocked to learn that firemen aren't allowed to help people in the water or on the ice. They can't even throw a rope to you if you're drowning because the councils are afraid of the liability.

In an area like Haliburton

County where there is almost as much water as land, it's unbelievable that the councils won't let the men take the necessary training for this kind of rescue.

What happens if someone in a fish hut or snowmobiling on a lake needs medical help? What if a car accident ends up over a guardrail and into the water? What about all the cottages you can only get to by boat? Are all these people just out of luck unless a courageous passer-by comes along?

As a citizen (and taxpayer) in a rural area who relies on help from the volunteer fire department for a wide range of problems, I think this rule is absolutely ridiculous and very dangerous to the community. I think our local councils are obligated to make sure our communities are properly protected, especially when there is so much water (and ice) up here. This is wrong. Let's rattle the cages of our local councils and get this changed -- our lives may depend on it.

Suzuki is most relevant columnist in The Times

Editor,

Is David Suzuki's column valuable?

It is absolutely the most relevant, intelligent, important column in your newspaper, week after week.

All we hear about these days is globalization, international trade, competitiveness and unemployment (or, to keep us occupied with the trivial, the intimate details of the lives of famous people).

Suzuki is one of the few writers whose analysis makes sense of all those issues. Most of the mainstream writers worry about their own turf, whether it is workers, (versus capital), Minden (versus Haliburton), Haliburton County (versus the province) or Canada (versus the United States, Mexico or Taiwan).

My point, and Suzuki's point, is that we are all in this together. A couple of examples can illustrate what I mean. When we eat beef from Argentina, we may be contributing, albeit indirectly, to destruction of the source of the oxygen we need to live, and we may be contributing to the misery of the people who used to live on that land before it was a cattle ranch. When we buy stuffed toys from Malaysia, we may be supporting an industry that exploits workers. We cannot ignore those realities; we are responsible.

It is time to stop trying to win at others' expense. It is time to try to figure out better ways to live together, to recognize that our well-being depends on our neighbours being well.

David Suzuki knows that, and he is trying to help us understand, so that we might start thinking of what is really important, and how we can conduct our lives so that there will be a liveable world, not only for our children, but for everyone's children, for generations and generations of human beings.

I have been proud of The Times because you run this column. It encouraged me to think that people in Minden had the opportunity to read about the ideas of a person who was truly global in his thinking. At the same time, it made sense, because when you live in Minden, you have the advantage of not being able to forget about nature, and about how humans are dependent on other species.

Infrastructure dollars could be better spent

Editor,

I have read with chagrin the announcement that our Anson, Hindon, Minden Council has agreed to apply for a $656,000 infrastructure program from the federal government. Our council claims that $328,000 can be found. Simply put, this is a million dollars that could be applied more sensibly.

My suggestion would be to move the court facility to Lindsay; relocate the Information Centre to Hyland Crest; one-tier government will become a reality with all facilities being relocated centrally.

There is no guarantee that any retrofit of the existing facility will provide local employment.

The river bank restoration at $170,000 is sheer frivolity. (There are other alternatives to the above suggestions).

A common sense plan would be to purchase and service with local trades an acreage for a high-tech R&D industrial park, perhaps with tax incentives.

This option would bolster our population and reduce the welfare and unemployment roles.

Reflections column is timely, informative

Editor,

I enjoy reading David Suzuki's "Reflections" very much. It is one of the columns I faithfully read with each issue. I think his writings are timely and informative and give insight to what is happening to our environment.

Please keep this column in your paper.

Correction

Lewis Stevens, chairman of Haliburton County's roads committee, was erroneously quoted in a story in the March 21 edition of The Times.

Stevens was opposed to contributing to the roads department's equipment reserve fund.

Funding that would have gone into this reserve will be used in 1994 to limit the tax increase.

The Times apologizes for this error.

Drumming out a loud message

McLuhan was right. Every syllable of spoken word we know, from Hamlet's soliloquy on the battlements to Jean Chretien's sound bites on Prime Time News — nothing but organized stutter.

How did that come to be? Nobody knows precisely when Grok the Caveman grew tired of waving his hairy arms around and decided to use grunts, growls and snorts to express himself, but anthropologists know that the human throat was capable of speech anywhere from 20,000 to 35,000 years ago, so it's a safe bet that we nattered at each other for several thousand years before somebody got a bright idea and said "I say chaps, how be we call all these noises we're making English?"

And not just English. There are some 9,000 languages and dialects spoken around the world. The most popular is Mandarin Chinese. English is second, then Hindi, Russian and Spanish.

Ottawa Valley Speak is not in the top 100.

Not all languages are spoken, either. The deaf and the mute have sign language. Boy scouts and aircraft carrier signalmen use semaphore. Various Indian tribes used to communicate by smoke signal. There is Morse Code, Braille, NHL referee hand signals.

And there is the drum.

Most of us in North America don't consider the drum to be a prime source of communication among human beings. For us the drum is a loud, rather tiresome quasi-musical instrument employed to drown out other musicians. It owes its current popularity to Mister Ringo Starr, a large-nosed Liverpudlian who regularly assaulted a drum kit on behalf of the Beatles.

But we in North America don't know diddly-squat about drums.

They do in West Africa. The Akan people, who are found throughout the West African countries, have been using drums to talk with each Language is a form of organized stutter.

Marshall McLuhan

by Arthur Black

other for centuries.

Very effectively, too. A good West African drummer can pound out a message that will carry for nearly 40 miles. That message will in turn be picked up by other drummers in all directions who will each transmit it to their listening audience.

In hours, a message can sweep across thousands of miles without benefit of telephone poles, highways or communications satellite.

And how does a drum message "read"? Not cut and dried like Morse Code. More like a soliloquy from Hamlet. West African drumspeak is highly poetic and beautiful. A plane crash translates as "a canoe that flies like a bird has fallen out of the sky."

And when the much-revered president of the Ivory Coast died last year, the tribal drums throbbed out a dirge that translated as "The great elephant has lost its teeth. The leopard has lost its spots. The baobab (tree) has crashed down."

A little more majestic than "Kennedy Shot!" wouldn't you say?

Reminds me of my most memorable encounter with a non-spoken language. Actually, it was a second-hand encounter. I heard the story from two wandering Canucks I met on a Spanish freighter waddling along the west coast of Africa. The two Canadians had been living on the island of Gomera, a tiny, volcanic atoll among the Canary Islands. They told a story of climbing one of the many rugged mountains on the island.

What they couldn't understand was how every villager they met seemed to be expecting them. Odd, considering they were climbing a goat path and there were no roads or telephones on their route. When they reached a village on the top of the mountain they were astounded to find that the townsfolk had killed and cooked a goat in their honour. Yes, the head man told them, they'd been expecting "two foreigners". "Beinvenido."

But how? How could they know?

The two Canucks were masters of suspense. They waited until I paid for a round of drinks in the ship's saloon before they explained.

It was whistling. The people on the island of Gomera speak a language of whistles called Silbo. The piercing whistles carry so well across valleys (or up mountains) that a "speaker" can be heard up to five miles away.

I wonder what Marshall McLuhan would say about that.

MP opposes boundary shift

John O'Reilly, Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton, spoke out against electoral boundary redistribution during debate on Bill C-18 in the House of Commons on March 24.

"I am opposed for two reasons; one, my riding is affected in a way that is not beneficial to it; and two, there is a great cost involved in re-distribution," O'Reilly said. "If a committee is going to investigate redistribution, the reasons for redistribution, it has to go in with a clear mandate. It cannot be driven by politics. It has to be something that is driven by economics," he added.

Bill C-18, an Act to suspend the operation of the Electoral Boundaries Readjustment Act, calls for a two-year suspension of the readjustment act which was brought forward by the previous government. The readjustment Act had called for the number of MPs to be increased from 295 to 301, and that a number of electoral boundaries in Canada be redesigned.

"Let us look at the ridings that are adversely affected like mine and the damage that does to the system that I have to work in, and stop, in any way we can, and take a hard look at redistribution and the effects of it on my riding and on other ridings in Canada."

O'Reilly attended a recent meeting with Brock Township Council in Beaverton, where he heard opposition to boundary changes.

"My loyalty is to the people who elected me," he said. "The issue of redistribution, as it has been presented, does not suit them well. It is an old process motivated by politics and not by good sense, so the sooner it is put on hold the better."

Nuclear ads filled with misleading propaganda

Editor,

By this time, many people will have seen recent advertisements on television praising nuclear technology. Several of the advertisements contain very misleading statements. For example, one advertisement states that "nuclear power means cleaner air." In fact, nuclear power stations are designed to routinely release many radioactive pollutants into the air that we breathe, and the water that we drink. All exposure to radiation increases our risk of contracting cancer and other health problems. The advertisements make no mention of the risk of a catastrophic accident at a nuclear power plant. The booklet being offered in the advertisements is also extremely misleading.

The sponsor of this $2 million propaganda campaign — the Canadian Nuclear Association (CNA) — does not have the integrity to identify itself in the ads. To add insult to injury, the largest supporter of the CNA is Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., which receives a federal taxpayer subsidy of about $200 million per year. Our electricity bills also support the CNA. Ontario Hydro quietly rejoined the CNA in February, after quitting in 1992 due to controversy over CNA's pro-nuclear bias.

Nuclear power is uneconomic, unsafe and unnecessary. Alternatives such as conservation, renewable energy and cogeneration, are readily available...so don't believe everything you see on TV!

Spot 97 bantams edged out by Otonabee

by Jerry Grozelle

Sports Editor's note: The Minden boys have lost out in their bid for the All-Ontario bantam championship. They lost the deciding game to the Otonabee Wolves last night at the Minden Arena.

The loss came after The Times went to press, so we are unable to bring you the details of the final game in today's paper. (See front page for the score.) We will have the round-up of that game in next week's edition of The Times.

Our congratulations to everyone affiliated with the team. J.G.

The Spot 97 bantams went to Keene up two games to one, with a chance to end the best-of-five All-Ontario semi-final series in four games. Although the Monarchs played well enough to win, Lady Luck saw fit to smile on the Otonabee Wolves instead.

In the last minute of the third period, with the score tied at 3-3 and the Minden boys pressing hard in the Otonabee end, the puck was flipped high in the air.

Otonabee captain Ben Thompson anticipated the play and broke for centre ice. He picked up the puck and skated in alone on Minden goaltender Justin Rowden. Rowden made the right moves, but the puck found the mesh anyway and the Wolves had the 4-3 win.

The game was a seesaw battle from the start. Jeff Wray opened the scoring for Minden two and a half minutes into the first period. Dennis Woods assisted.

Two minutes later Matt Kydd scored for the Wolves to tie it up.

It took the Monarchs just 26 seconds to regain the lead, with a goal by Ben Ripley, from Rob Camelon.

With 3:14 left in the first period, Jim Deacon notched the equalizer for Otonabee and the two teams started the second on even terms.

Otonabee took the lead for the first time with a goal by Adam Atkinson at the 1:50 mark of the middle frame. But the Wolves only enjoyed the lead for a little over three minutes. Woods knotted the game on a set-up from Wray and Darren Mills.

The game remained tied at three for the rest of the second and 14:40 of the third, until that fateful breakaway.

The Monarchs only played one good game in the first three and escaped with two wins.

The opener in Minden on Sunday, March 20 won't be remembered as a great one. Although the Monarchs won by a 12-8 score, it was more by good luck than anything else.

A bit of intensity shone through in the first period. The Monarchs got off to a good start, building up a 4-0 lead before Otonabee got on the board late in the first period.

Minden played only well enough to stay in front of the Wolves and by the end of the second frame Otonabee had narrowed the gap to 6-5.

He scores: Minden marksman Dave Raback gave the hometown crowd something to cheer about when he put this shot past Otonabee netminder Scott Clement Thursday night. The best-of-five series was tied at two apiece when Otonabee scored in the last minute of the third period Saturday night in Keene, forcing a fifth and deciding game in Minden last night.

By the 4:05 mark of the third, the score was 8-7 in favour of the Monarchs. That's when Otonabee goaltender Kevin Cornish was injured and had to be carried off the ice on a stretcher. With no back-up goalie, Derek Rossi volunteered to don the goaltender's equipment for the last four minutes of the game.

Within half a minute of the restart, the Monarchs scored on the replacement. Two more empty net markers were added and Minden scored the last goal of the game with Rossi back between the pipes.

Minden Captain Curtis Fielding led the scoring in the series opener with four goals and one assist to his credit. Dave Raback added a hat trick and as many assists. Tom Bagshaw scored once and helped set up three more. Chris Eskelin had a goal and a pair of assists while Jeff Wray, Darren Mills and Dennis Woods notched a goal and one assist apiece.

Game two of the series, in Keene on Tuesday, March 22, was the best of the first three for Minden.

"They played with a lot more intensity," said Minden coach Dan Mills. "We totally shut them down in the third period."

Otonabee scored first with 5:27 left in the first frame. Twenty seconds later Minden was back on even terms with a goal by Bagshaw, from Eskelin and Fielding.

Otonabee went ahead again with less than two minutes remaining in the first.

The Monarchs got back on even terms with one second showing on the clock at the end of the first. Wray was the sniper, with Marty Dettman and Dennis Woods assisting.

Two quick goals early in the second period put the Monarchs in the driver's seat. Woods was the sharpshooter on both of those goals, just 19 seconds apart. Wray drew assists on both goals with Dettman helping out on one.

The Wolves rebounded with two of their own 35 seconds apart near the middle of the period to knot the game at 4-4.

Bagshaw scored what proved to be the game winner with 3:22 left in the middle frame. Raback and Mills assisted.

There was no scoring in the third period.

A win at home Thursday night would

Atoms down 2-0 in Tri-County finals against Wilberforce

Tri-County atom playoff hockey action between the Minden Monarchs and the Wilberforce Rockets saw the Rockets come out on top in the first two games.

Wilberforce won the first game 3-0 on Sunday, March 20, on the Rockets' home ice.

The Monarchs dominated for the first seven minutes of the opening frame, keeping the Rockets outside the Minden blue line for most of that time. Even so, the Monarchs were unable to put a point on the scoreboard.

Minden ran into penalty trouble in the late stages of the first period and Wilberforce capitalized on the man advantage opportunity, taking a 1-0 lead.

The Monarchs remained within striking distance throughout the middle frame and into the third. Minden netminder Shane Walker robbed the opposition on several occasions until the Rockets scored another powerplay goal early in the third for a 2-0 advantage.

Not willing to give up without a fight, the Minden crew continued to play a strong game. A few more chances in the third were denied by the Wilberforce goalie.

One more marker was added to the Wilberforce tally before it was over and the Rockets had a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

Two days later, the Monarchs played host to the Rockets for game two of the series. In spite of another strong, in-your-face type of game both offensively and defensively, Minden came out on the short end of a 4-1 score.

Both teams had plenty of opportunities to draw first blood, but it was the visitors who put the opening goal on the scoreboard.

Wilberforce added a second goal in the second for a 2-0 advantage.

The end to end action continued and Minden goaltender Jeremy Davis stole a new allied Wilberforce's would-be snipers while his teammates worked hard at cutting the opposition's lead. Their efforts were rewarded with a goal by Jonathan Horsley that brought Minden to within a goal of the Rockets. Derek Barnett and Chris Boxell assisted.

But two more goals were added to the Wilberforce side of the scoreboard before the game ended to give the Rockets a 2-0 lead in the series.

Kirk Bull, coach of the Monarch team had no complaints about his team's play. He did comment on the refereeing though.

"The refereeing has to be more consistent," Bull says. "Some referees let them play the game and others will hardly let them out on the ice. It's hard on the kids."

Game three of the series was slated for yesterday (Sunday) in Wilberforce. Minden had to win that game to stay alive in the best-of-five Tri-County championship.

Spot 97 bantams....

have clinched the All-Ontario semi-finals for the Monarchs. But overconfidence reared its ugly head. The Minden boys didn't play well enough to beat a reasonably good atom team, let alone a contender for the provincial bantam title.

The biggest hometown crowd of the year had little to cheer about as the Monarchs gave up a 7-1 loss to the Wolves.

The lone Minden goal was the only bright spot. A good two-way passing play in the second period between Raback and Bagshaw saw Bagshaw get a shot that Otonabee goalie Scott Clement blocked. The rebound went to Raback, who fired it into the short side to tie the game at 1-1.

But by the end of the frame Otonabee was in front by a 4-1 count. The visitors added three unanswered goals in the third.

"You can just say that Minden didn't show up for the game," said a disappointed Dan Mills after Thursday's game. "We made them look good."

Even after the heart-breaking loss in Keene Saturday night, the Monarchs remained positive.

"They did play well tonight," said coach Mills after the game. "We should have won."

Gary Nelson. Dave Rodgers and Paul Mayo assisted.

Before the first frame ended, Home was back in front again. Barry Shaw was the marksman, from Ritchie Mills and Elias.

The Home Hardware crew continued to build on its lead in the second half. Elias earned his third point of the game, notching his second goal of the night for a 3-2 lead. Barry Shaw set that one up.

Doug Allison made it 4-1 with an assist going to Stamp.

Westside netted the last goal of the game. The sniper was Steve Crowe, with Greg Metcalfe assisting.

Game two of the best-of-three series is slated for tonight (Monday) at 8 p.m.

Legion bantams win Tri-County Championship

Monarchs win two games in Keswick to earn league crown

by Jerry Grozelle

The true colours shone through when the Minden Legion Bantam B Monarchs went to Keswick last weekend for games five and six of the Tri-County finals.

The Monarchs had given up a 2-0 lead in the championship series, allowing the Keswick Canadiens to rebound and even the series at 2-2. But the Minden boys wouldn't be denied. They jumped ahead again with 5-1 victory on Saturday, March 19 and clinched the league championship, blanking the Canadiens 3-0 the following day.

Minden coach Scott Gartshore juggled the lines for the Saturday game in an effort to contain Keswick captain Jason Fattore. The changes worked so well that Gartshore went with the same combination for both games.

"It was a proud moment for the boys and for the coaches," Gartshore said. "We brought home the big trophy."

The Monarchs took control early in the Saturday game. It took Minden less than a minute to put a point on the visitors' side of the scoreboard.

Nathan Stephenson was the sharpshooter, assisted by Ian Clements and Sean Irvine.

A minute and 40 seconds into the second, Minden went in front by a 2-0 margin on a goal by Travis Leonard. Adam Carpenter set that one up.

A minute and eight seconds after that goal, George Godfrey scored the third Minden goal, from Jason Kasepчук and Carpenter.

Keswick defenceman Steve Collins got what proved to be the only goal on Minden goaltender Jason Flood over the course of both weekend games.

Before the middle frame was over, Minden struck again to take a 4-1 lead. Clements scored with 2:47 left in the period, assisted by Irvine.

Clements added one more in the third frame to round out the game's scoring. Carpenter picked up another assist on that one, his third helper of the game.

Minden goaltender Shane Flood played exceptionally well between the pipes in the Sunday game, to earn the shutout.

Irvine's unassisted goal with 1:51 remaining in the first period proved to be the game winner. It was the only marker of the opening frame.

Clements padded the Minden lead to 2-0 a minute and six seconds into the second. Andy Madill assisted.

Another single goal punctuated the third. Godfrey was the sniper, from Carpenter and Clements.

The league championship trophy was presented to the Monarchs after the game.

Coach Gartshore had nothing but praise for his team.

"It was a real team effort," he said. "The boys pulled together and worked really hard."

"It's been a great year. We set some goals at the first of the year and we managed to achieve them."

Gartshore also expressed his appreciation to the sponsor.

"I would like to thank the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 636 for sponsoring the team," he said.

The championship trophy will be proudly on display at the Minden Legion for most of the coming year, until the winner of the 1994-95 season is determined.

Team members took a turn around Minden Saturday, aboard a fire truck, to celebrate their victory.

Following the "victory lap" the championship trophy was presented to the Minden Legion Branch 636, sponsor of the team.

Congratulations Minden Bantam B

CHAMPS

Also thank you for a terrific year. I would like to thank Brian, Bill, and Wayne for their help with the CHAMPS. Also, thanks to the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 636, for sponsoring our team.

A special thank you to all parents, from whom I did not have one single complaint all season.

Skaters show talents in Sudbury

Five members of the Minden Skating Club exemplified the top calibre of talent of local skaters when they competed with the best in Ontario at the All-Ontario Figure Skating Championships in Sudbury on March 20.

The Sudbury competition was the culmination of all the hard work the local skaters endured to make it to the provincial finals. The last two qualifying events in which Minden area skaters were required to place to advance were the Kawartha Highlands Interclub and the Eastern Ontario competitions.

Results from the

Sudbury competition are as follows:

Kerri Matysek and Daniel Vanderlip placed fifth in the pre-preliminary dance event.

In the preliminary pairs competition, Krista Matysek and Daniel Vanderlip were seventh.

Katrina Matysek and Tristan Pawluch placed sixth in the juvenile pairs category.

Much of the credit for such a capable showing at the provincial championships goes to coach David Hollows. Under his guidance, the local skaters' achievements are a credit to the Minden Skating Club.

All-Ontario Competitors: These five members of the Minden Skating Club did the club proud at the All-Ontario Figure Skating Championships in Sudbury. They are (l to r): Katrina Matysek, Kerri Matysek, Daniel Vanderlip, Tristan Pawluch and Krista Matysek.

HHOA Wild Game Dinner a "tremendous success"

Sell-out crowd dines on venison, moose, beaver, bear, wild boar and salmon

by Jerry Grozelle

Venison, moose, bear, wild boar, beaver and salmon were among the menu choices at the first Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association's Wild Game Dinner on March 19 at the Haliburton Legion.

The dinner and dance, which featured local band Summerwind, was a sell-out. More than 200 people dined on wild game, most of which was donated by Association directors and members.

HHOA member Wayne "Woody" Woods was the chef for the evening's meal. Woods and his sons Kevin and Wade prepared all but the bear and beaver meat, which were cooked by other Association members and taken from their kitchens to the Legion.

Activities for the evening also included a silent auction, which proved to be popular. About 15 items were available to the highest bidder. They included a Lawn Boy lawn mower, a Winchester model 1300 12 gauge shotgun (which was especially designed with the turkey hunter in mind), fishing equipment, wildlife prints, duck nesting boxes, a snowmobile suit and a variety of other things.

The event was organized by the Fundraising Committee of the HHOA. Carl Heins and Bruce Sawyer spearheaded the committee.

"As far as I'm concerned it was a tremendous success," Heins said. "It has been our biggest fundraiser so far."

Sawyer echoed Heins' sentiments, saying the event was a 100 per cent success.

Sawyer pointed out that the organizing team had a lot of help from other directors and members of the Association.

"We deeply appreciate the donation of the wild game meat that made it all possible," Sawyer said. "We had a lot of help and everything went great. I'd like to thank all of the people who worked so hard to put the event together."

Sawyer also praised the band, saying: "They did a great job. I thought they were superb."

The event was so successful it is destined to become an annual event.

Serving it up: More than 200 people turned out for the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association Wild Game Dinner and Dance on March 19. Organizers say it was the most successful event the Association has had to date.

Entertainers: The band Summerwind kept the crowd hopping at the HHOA Wild Game Dinner and Dance.

FOREST FIRES

BURN MORE THAN TREES

Every year forest fires occur in and around our communities. These fires threaten lives and properties and are a burdening expense to the taxpayer. The months of April and May are the most dangerous times. Dead grass and leaves will allow a fire to spread very quickly resulting in a wildfire.

Before you burn your grass, brush or debris, remember these important points:

1. You must obtain a fire permit;
2. Ensure that a responsible person tends the fire;
3. Keep the fire under control;
4. Upon completion, put your fire dead out. Even if it appears to be out, stir it, and drown it with water again and again, until you're sure it is out.
5. No burning allowed between 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. (with the exception of Industrial Permits)
6. For further information, please contact your local Municipal Office, Fire Warden or the Haliburton Fire Operations Headquarters at (705) 457-2107.

Rotarians off to district conference

Minden Rotarians and their partners will be joining over 600 delegates from throughout central and northern Ontario when they attend the Rotary's District 7010 Conference from Sept. 22 to 25.

Timmins native Sean Kelly, a Bracebridge lawyer, will take office as District Governor July 1. The district conference is being hosted by his home club.

The theme of the conference is "Rotary Shows Its Colours." With Bracebridge being situated in the heart of Muskoka where fall colours are outstanding, it was an appropriate choice of themes. The focus of the conference will be vocational service, one of the four major areas of responsibility undertaken by Rotary Clubs.

The site of the conference will be the Rotary Centre for Youth, which was built by the Bracebridge club to service the needs of local youth groups, particularly Boy Scout and Girl Guide organizations. In addition, the club will be erecting a 9,000-foot "big top".

Among the keynote speakers will be Catherine Swift, executive vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, and Dr. Reg Stackhouse, an author, former MP and theologian.

As well as a number of meetings, planning sessions and speeches, delegates will also have the opportunity to enjoy Muskoka hospitality with golf, boat cruises, a tour of artists and craftspeople's studios and nightly entertainment.

FOCA seminar primes election candidates

The Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations is holding its spring seminar on April 23 in Scarborough.

Since this is a municipal election year, participants will have the opportunity to get primed on municipal politics through a pair of workshops.

Taxes, the environment, land-use planning and recreational boating will also be featured topics at this day-long seminar.

The program begins at 9 a.m. with a welcome from the president. This is followed by a session called "Fair Tax Forum" and an update on various issues of concern to cottagers.

After the morning break, participants can enrol in "Birnbaum's Cottage Country Campaign School". Here, they will learn everything they ever wanted to know about municipal elections.

At 1 p.m. there will be a Lake Stewardship meeting, as well as another workshop geared to municipal elections.

The seminar will be held at Sheraton Toronto East Hotel and Towers in Salons B, C and D. Doors open for registration at 8 a.m. Registration is $20, which includes everything (information, refreshments, parking and literature).

Each cottage association is urged to send at least one member to share this information with their members.

Now you see 'em, now you don't. The surest sign of spring's arrival is the disappearance of the fish huts that have occupied the lakes throughout the winter. At the beginning of last week, there were still plenty of huts on the frozen lake surfaces. However, as rain and warm weather arrived, the huts rapidly began to disappear. Hut owners have until March 30 to get the huts off the lakes.

Legion prepares for election of officers

A sure sign of spring is the Legion's St. Patrick's Day corned beef and cabbage dinner and dance, held Saturday, March 19 with many in attendance. The dinner was very good and it was served up by several of our male members under the direction of our Seargent-At-Arms, Ken Walsh. Lots of Irish humour and music to go with the meal but...how did the Gay Gordons get in there?

Comrade Ross Codlin and his committee have planned a Western Night for the near future. A date has not been announced as yet, but will be posted shortly at the Branch. In the meantime, however, another Sunday afternoon Fun Day is planned for Sunday, April 17, starting at 12:30 p.m. If you have not attended one of these, you really should. We feel you will be pleasantly surprised.

Service Clubs

by Dave McAdam for Legion Br. 636

On March 6, your President, along with seven other members from the Branch, attended the Zone F4 Convention in Cannington. Once we found the Branch there, all else went well. We were presented with our award for having obtained an Early Bird renewal status of 70 percent for 94-95, and the Branch made a presentation to the Provincial Bursary Fund and to the Provincial Charitable Foundation. The convention proved enlightening in a number of areas of Legion concern.

The March issue of the Blue Beret newsletter is now available in the foyer. It is customary to mail the far distant out-of-town members their copies. To minimize mailing costs, we request those members who live close to the Branch to pick up their Blue Beret personally.

On April 23, we expect to be attending the District F Convention in Oshawa where we believe much of its theme will centre on the coming 50th anniversary of D-Day, and V.E. and V.J. Days. The official period for any of these celebrations or other related events to take place is June 5 through November 11. Following the convention, Branch 636 will likely be formulating plans for our community along these lines.

We especially wish to draw the members' attention to the next two General Meetings of the Branch. The first is April 6 at 7:30 p.m., the second is May 4 at 7:30 p.m. On April 6, you will be nominating persons from the membership to form your next Executive.

On May 4, you will be electing nominees to office. You should plan to attend both of these meetings as they are where you truly have a chance to achieve an Executive that will operate the Branch as you feel it should be run. Better still, why not let your own name stand and put your own back behind your views on how the Branch should be run?

We wish to express our sympathy to the family of Keith Levitt who passed away this month.

Best wishes for better health to Comrades Helen Johnson and Wes Baker, both presently in hospital.

Helmets save lives

As winter comes to an end, the thoughts of many children, and some adults, may focus on getting the bicycle out of storage for another season of cycling.

Police are encouraging parents to examine their children's bicycle for mechanical fitness by checking the brakes, cables, wheel spokes, handle bars, seat adjustment, loose nuts and bolts and any other problem that could result in a needless injury.

Parents should also remind their children that a bicycle is a vehicle by definition of the Highway Traffic Act, and as such, its driver must obey all the rules of the road.

While in the safety mode, all cyclists should consider wearing an approved bicycle helmet.

Every year, children are killed or seriously injured in bicycle mishaps. In fact, bicycle related mishaps are the leading cause of head injury in children. Fewer than 20 per cent of the reported bicycle mishaps involve collisions with motorized vehicles. Most death and serious injuries involve collisions which occur as a result of the rider falling from the bicycle and the head striking on a hard surface.

A bicycle helmet can greatly lessen the risk of serious head injury.

EARTH IS A SACRED GIFT

Value is more than dollars, cents

It looked like a cheap dime store piece of costume jewelry lying in the grass but I picked it up and carried it to the booth at the park entrance. As soon as I held out the brooch, a woman came running over and seized it with a squeal, "That's mine! Thank you so much." She then proceeded to hug every bit of air out of my chest. She had been frantic over the brooch's loss because, as she told me, it had belonged to her great-grandmother and had been passed down to her by her mother.

That piece of jewelry was priceless to its current owner and I doubt that any amount of money could have made her part with it. Yet its market value could not have been more than a few dollars. The history, sentiment, and memories that gave that trinket worth to the woman could not be discerned in its physical properties. Its value was only in the woman's mind yet was just as real to her as a million bucks or anything in her physical surroundings.

The human brain is unique in its capacity to put "value" on intangible things. We do that with many things that really matter to us.

Before each of my children was born, my wife and I saved mementos, from friends' congratulatory cards to poems and notes that we wrote about our hopes and thoughts for the future of the child growing in my wife's body. And after their birth, we saved each hospital ID bracelet, the first lost baby tooth, drawings and scribbles.

When the children reach adulthood, they will get albums containing some of the landmarks of their lives. And I know if our home should ever catch fire, the first things I would try to save would be those albums because to me, they are irreplaceable and beyond price. Yet they would be worthless if I tried to sell them.

My first years of life were in a Vancouver community where most Home has become mere property, an investment, a tax dodge, a quick profit, no longer a place in which part of our lives exists.

Reflections

by David Suzuki

of our neighbours had lived for decades, many in houses that had belonged to their parents. Today with land flipping and "starter homes", people occupy temporarily, sell it, and move on. Home has become mere property, an investment, a tax dodge, a quick profit, no longer a place in which part of our lives exists.

And yet we can form deep "sentimental" attachments to places rather quickly. My wife and I spent months searching for a bit of wilderness to which we could retreat for rest and renewal. After months of searching, we discovered a magical place that we knew instantly was "Tangwyn" (Blessed Peace). Tangwyn is an intact piece of land with ocean bays, a creek, and many trees that are hundreds of years old.

The real estate agent missed our motives and confided that the property could be cut into three lots. "You could sell two and have the third for yourself free," he suggested. What he didn't understand was that we had fallen in love with it and wanted to hold it so that it could be passed on to our children intact. The ancient trees, the middens and arrowheads exposed on the eroding shore banks, offer mute testimony to a long history.

Money has become such a preoccupation today that we measure all value in dollars and cents. But surely that woman's brooch, my children's albums, and Tangwyn suggest that there are many precious things whose value cannot be measured monetarily. The reasons we cherish them are very real and important, but they are, for lack of a better word, spiritual in nature. It's time to ameliorate our excessive attention to matters economic and acknowledge the reality and importance of those spiritual values.

The heart of the global eco-crisis today is the loss of any sense that the Earth and its animate and inanimate components are a "sacred" gift from the past and the rightful inheritance for all future generations. It is a terrible mistake to get caught up in the sham of trying to assign economic worth to things that are beyond anything economic.

Even if our species is able to survive the spasm of mass extinction that is now consuming the planet's biodiversity, we would be bereft of companionship of other species, a loss that cannot be calculated in economic terms. I believe the revulsion one feels upon first seeing a large clearcut is a visceral recognition of a desecration - we know to our very core that this is not the way to treat the Earth.

In demanding that prices be assigned to forests, rivers, prairies, species, atmosphere, political and business leaders deny the existence, let alone the importance, of matters spiritual. Yet those nonmaterial values are what make life rich and hold the promises of love and happiness. In our current preoccupation with global markets, competitiveness, and efficiency, maximizing profitability and increased consumerism, we merely encourage the insatiable and unsustainable demands that are destroying our home, the planet.

A family heirloom, a child's album, Tangwyn give evidence of other values to counter our economic obsession.

Leprechaun pays visit to Hyland Crest

Once again Estella Burch came to read us "Dinner of Herbs". It is a moving book and we hate to miss any of it. In the evening, Rev. John Burgess had the Sunday night service with Lorna Rowllins playing the organ. We truly thank them both.

Monday afternoon Residents' Council was held in the craft room. Here the residents have a time to air their likes and dislikes about our home, and every resident is urged to attend. In the evening a meeting of all six candidates was held in the auditorium to which the residents were welcome.

Tuesday chapel service was taken by Rev. Peter Walford-Davis. Those able to attend thank him very much. In the afternoon we had crafts, some of us decorated a swan. That evening, Corinne helped us to play a few games of cards. Thank you Corinne.

Wednesday we had a try at problem solving. There were many angles to consider and as we did this, we had drinks and a cake which had been made for Valentine's Day by Alice Todd and decorated by Winnie Barnum.

Everett Fairey and Ted Brown played and sang for us Wednesday night for a while. It was an enjoyable time and we thank them sincerely.

Thursday the auditorium was in use all day for voting. For a week previous, clues had been posted giving hints to who our leprechaun might be. We were asked at lunch on the 17th for our answer. We were to wear something green and we wore green shamrocks made by the residents and at each place was a little green bag of candy. After we were seated the leprechaun was ushered in by Doris and Linda and they danced all around the dining room. It was a hilarious time. The little person was Joyce Bacon and the winners were Lola Prentice and Lilian Davidson. Congratulations.

Thursday afternoon the tea party was held in the main dining room. The delicious lunch was provided by the women of the Minden Anglican Church. Our thanks to this group of ladies for making our afternoon so enjoyable. Thursday evening Kathy Wood called Bingo for us in the Tuck Shop. Linda had purchased new large letter cards to help some of us with eye trouble. There were new chips to use on the new cards, but the small chips seemed to be better to use.

Friday being Happy Hour, entertainment was provided by Don White, Don Alton, Carmen Peters and Doris. Together they played some lively music that everyone enjoyed. The volunteers were Merv and Lois Barry and Bonnie Fullan. The residents and friends heartily thank you all.

IN MEMORIAM

BARRAS, Breanne - In loving memory of my beautiful daughter Breanna Morgan, who left my arms so peacefully on March 26, 1992.

She was only a little White Rose, A sweet little flower from birth. God took her home to Heaven Before she was soiled on earth. Though her smile is gone forever, And her hand I cannot touch, Still I have so many memories Of the one I loved so much. Her memory is my keepsake, With which I'll never part God has her in His keeping, I have her in my heart. Now and forever loved and deeply missed, Always your Mum Mum (Judy).

BARRAS, Breanna - In loving memory of our Dear Angel Breanna.

May the winds of love blow softly In the quiet country graveyard Where the gentle breezes blow Lies the one we love so dearly Whom we lost two years ago. Your resting place we visit And put flowers on with care But no one knows the heartache When we turn and leave you there. They say time heals all sorrow And helps one to forget But time has only proven "Tinker"

How much we love and miss you yet. So dearly loved and sadly missed, Always Nanna & Poppa Trumbull Aunt Joanie, Uncle Myles, Aunt Sandra, Tyler & Jenna.

FRANCIS, S. Carl - In loving memory of our husband, father, and grandfather who passed away April 3, 1992.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance, Just a memory fond and true Just a token of affection And a heartache still for you. More each day we miss you Though our thoughts are not revealed Little do they know the sorrow That is within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed but lovingly remembered. Ruby and all your family.
